Show Me the Money!

The 2017 Missouri Main Street Connection's conference is the event you don't want to miss! Show Me the Money! will bring together key individuals from Missouri state departments to present on topics specific to your downtown revitalization program's funding needs. In one conference you'll have access to invaluable sessions about grants, loans, tax credits, and other forms of finance available to Missouri communities through federal, state and local funding organizations.

Who Should Attend?

Local Main Street staff and board members, city mayors and council members, administrators and planners, economic and community developers, and Chamber and tourism directors will learn more about sources of funding directly from the people who work with the programs daily.

Sessions Speakers will also be available during the "Open House" to talk with attendees one-on-one about services and resources they offer. Meet the directors and key staff from the Missouri departments listed to the right.
