MISSOURI MAIN STREET CONNECTION PEOPLE ENERGIZING PLACES APPLICATION

An Overview: The Main Street Approach® to Historic Commercial District Revitalization

Main Streets are not just collections of old buildings, but the hearts of communities, distinct places, and the roots of our nation. Ignored, abandoned, and otherwise unprotected, they disappear. And with that, so do the souls of the communities – and people. In an age of indistinguishable strip centers and homogenous culture, our historic downtown districts are more important and compelling than ever.

A comprehensive, multifaceted strategy – the Main Street Four-Point Approach® - offers a blueprint for bringing downtowns back to life. The Main Street Approach® applies a historic preservation-based, volunteer-driven economic development strategy to grassroots organizations, which yields impressive results in communities of all sizes and in all places. Downtowns in small communities and urban commercial districts have used this cost-effective approach to attract new investment to their districts while reusing the existing building stock and amenities.

This philosophy is not new to you since you already have a Main Street organization underway. The question is how to be more effective and how to connect the community - the people - to the place, your downtown. The Main Street Approach® advocates a return to community self-reliance and the redevelopment of Main Street program areas based on their traditional assets: personal service, local ownership, a unique physical environment and a sense of community. It is an incremental, long-term, total community effort differing in philosophy and effect from capital intensive, quick-fix projects. It is not driven by political goals or agendas, but by the vision and labor of ordinary people who become extraordinary – those who are willing to take responsibility for their own present circumstances and the future of their communities.

The Main Street Approach® incorporates activities in four distinctive areas, which sometimes overlap; they combine to build a positive, identifiable image for the revitalization program area.

ORGANIZATION: The Main Street Approach® to revitalization is a total community effort. Groups and individuals typically involved in Main Street programs include business people, merchants, property owners, local government, financial institutions, industry, clergy, schools, utilities, residents and civic groups. Building the organization's capacity with enough people, funds and local enthusiasm to implement the program is critical to revitalization success.

PROMOTION: Revitalization programs market the district and community through a series of focused, targeted activities such as special events and festivals, which highlight the local culture, art, music, dance and traditions that give each community its unique identity.

DESIGN: The physical appearance of a historic commercial district sets it apart from any other. A physically attractive district appeals to shoppers, residents, visitors and potential investors. The Main Street design philosophy is based on the historic preservation ethic and strives to improve the appearance of all physical things in the revitalization program area, including buildings, signs, public art and window displays. Design also includes streets, sidewalks, parks and other public infrastructure.

ECONOMIC VITALITY: The revitalization program is based on the success of existing businesses, and strives to make them better while recruiting new investors to the district who will complement the current business mix. Economic Restructuring analyzes regional and local market forces that impact the district, in order to develop long-term solutions and prepare the district to thrive.

Commitment of the Board of Directors and members to education and training in the Main Street Approach® to Revitalization.

The education and training of downtown/neighborhood leaders is critical to the success of the local revitalization planning and implementation process. Please read carefully the components below that indicate your community's commitment to the education, training and benchmarks necessary for development. The following are minimum time commitments for the local revitalization staff/director, board, officers and committee members during the two-year grant period.

- Adopts budgets, develops work plans and sets benchmarks within the first six months.
- Staff orientation anytime staff turnover occurs, if applicable.
- Orientation for new board members and officers of the organization. (Generally this is achieved by their attendance at the Basic Training workshops during the state conference.)
- Yearly attendance at two or more officially recognized Main Street workshops/conferences conducted annually off-site from your community. The four officially recognized sessions:
 1. A regional Missouri Main Street workshop in the spring, which includes a variety of special topics, determined in advance by the needs of the local revitalization programs.
 2. National Main Street Conference – conducted in different states each year, generally in the spring. The sessions provide new programs and mature programs with many opportunities for expanding their knowledge and networking with other revitalization program members.
 3. Missouri's Annual Premier Revitalization Conference, "Get Plugged in...Downtown," is a slightly downsized version of the National Conference and generally held in July.
 4. A regional Missouri Main Street workshop in the fall, generally scheduled in November.
- Attendance is mandatory for your organization's leadership team at all of the training sessions conducted on-site in your community during the two-year grant period, as described in the Program Services. At least 70% of your leadership team (board of directors and committee chairs/team leaders) must be in attendance.
